Summer's a great time to start earning money

Sometimes, the things you want cost more than the money you have. What do you do? You can save up by not spending on other items, or try to earn some extra money.

Since there's no homework to do during summer break, you may have more time on your hands. It's a good time to plan for the future and think about earning money for things that you may want. With a little work, a little creativity and an okay from your parents, you can start adding to your piggy bank. Here are a few ideas to get you started:

1. Help out more at home.

Ask your parents if you can help with any big projects around the house: cleaning or organizing the garage. Or you can help tidy closets, straighten up the laundry area. You can think of more.

2. Help people take care of their yards.

Tell your neighbors that you would like to be their helping hand. Offer to help with grass-cutting or leaf-raking. You can pull weeds, water lawns, or pick up branches. Make flyers and drop them off at houses in your neighborhood.

3. Wash cars.

Turn your driveway into a neighborhood car wash and remember to minimize your water use.

4. Start a dog-walking service.

Feed, watch or walk dogs. If you're really responsible, you might offer to care for other people's pets – like lizards and birds – while they're busy or away from home.

5. Sell unwanted item.

Clean-up your room and set aside gently used toys and clothes for a rummage or yard sale. Ask your parents if they have items they no longer use. You could even team up with other kids in your neighborhood to hold a neighborhood rummage sale.

6. Sell baked goods.

Have fun in the kitchen and bake some cookies, muffins and/or brownies and sell them sports events or yard sales.

Count the value of each coin caterpillar

Add up the value of the coins in each coin caterpillar below. Want an extra challenge? Create your own coin caterpillars and see how long you can make one while still being able to add up the value of all the coins in your caterpillar.

Super Savers Get Rewarded

We love seeing our Kids Club members saving their money and bringing in their tokens to redeem for prizes. These kids scored some of our new prizes: rainbow popit backpack, make your own slime kit and dino building set.

New prizes are released each quarter (January, April, July, October). Is there a prize that you'd like to see added? Email your wish list to hello@mauicountyfcu.org.
